To the remnant of King Albert's army has been assigned the duty of defending the left wing of the great battle line stretching from the North sea to the Belgian frontier. The Belgians are entrenched along the sector from Dixmude to the coast with a French supporting army on their right wing, connecting with the trenches to the south, held by the British from Ypres to La Basse. The Belgians also have received support from British and French warships for several miles inland among the sand dunes along the Belgian coast. There has been some heavy fighting during the last week north of Dixmude. Drel Grachten was captured by the Belgians, but retaken after desperate resistance by the Germans.

RUSS BATTER AT USZOK PASS

Making Hard Attempt to Clear Road for Plunge Into Hungary Plains.

BULLETIN.
LONDON, April 12.—The Petrograd correspondent of the Times says:

"The Russians have captured the last Austrian position on the main Carpathian range along the line of the Russian advance."

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]
PETROGRAD, April 12.—The Russians are now on the southern slope of the Carpathians, defending their recently gained positions against persistent and violent attempts by the Germans and Austrians to throw the Russian invaders back upon the summits of the range.

The passing of the crest and the beginning of the present operations on the Hungarian slope was marked by the capture of Hill No. 908 at Wollamichova, announced in yesterday's official statement. The Austrians and their German reinforcements at once began a series of counter attacks in an effort to stem the march of the Russian forces from the crest of the ridge, but this effort so far has been unavailing. The Russians have captured one battalion of the troops which were engaged in these attacks.

Fight for Uszok Pass.
Engagements of the last day of two have brought the Russians to the foot of the pass. The capture of the pass is the only one of the important Carpathian passes which so far has remained out of their reach.

Several more of the heights defending the pass have now fallen to the Russian troops after severe fighting, in which the Russians took 1,000 prisoners. Northeast of the pass the Austrians are continuing their counter offensive in the direction of the pass.

Little activity is reported in Poland. Isolated encounters have occurred in the region west of the Niemen, but no general movement.

Russian War Statement.
The following official statement was issued from general headquarters to-night:

"West of the Niemen, isolated actions continue in the region of the River Szczecin."

"In the Carpathians the enemy on April 9 and the following night attacked in several columns, strongly supported by artillery, our troops, who had advanced toward the southern slopes of the principal mountain chain. These attacks were repulsed with enormous losses to the enemy, and we captured a battalion with twenty-three officers and machine guns."

"In the direction of Uszok, after a stubborn fight, we carried several heights, capturing 1,000 men, twenty-two officers, and four machine guns."

"The enemy's attacks have continued. On the other sectors of our front there has been no marked change."

Austrian War Statement.
VIENNA, April 12.—The Austrian war department today gave out the following official statement:

"In the wooded heights to the east of Uszok pass, fighting continues in some sectors. Pursuing our success of April 9, we captured 9 more officers and 715 men. We also took two machine guns."

"In eastern Galicia there have been only artillery engagements and night attacks."

German War Statement.
BERLIN, April 12.—The German war department tonight issued the following statement:

"Near Mariampol and Kalwaria and near Klimki on the Skwa, Russian attacks were repulsed."

"At a place near Bromberg, west of Plock, the Russians were driven out. We made eighty prisoners and captured three machine guns."

"In Poland, south of Vistula, the Russians sent up a lively infantry and artillery fire all night."

GERMANS GIVE REPLY TO DUTCH SHIPPING PROTEST.

Will Submit Question Regarding Loss of Vessels to Early Peace Court Decision.

LONDON, April 12.—Replying to the Dutch note protesting against the sinking of the Dutch steamer Medea by a German submarine, and the seizure by a submarine of the Dutch steamer Batavier V and Zaanstroom, Germany has expressed the opinion that the action of her submarines was in accordance with the terms of the declaration of London, says Reuters' Amsterdam correspondent.

"Germany announces, however," the correspondent adds, "that she has decided to submit the question of justification to a prize court as soon as possible. Assurances are given in the German reply that there is no question of any change in the political attitude of Germany toward Holland."

"Holland in her protest had stated that international law did not recognize the destruction of neutral prizes as in the case of the Medea, and that, moreover, the destruction of this ship was not proportionate to the strategic aim of preventing her cargo of oranges reaching a hostile country."

BIG CAMPAIGN ON IN BRITAIN TO RAISE KITCHENER ARMY.

Fortnight's Endeavor to Get Troops Results in 200 Recruits from One Day's Meeting.

LONDON, April 12.—A great patriotic campaign to secure recruits for Field Marshal Earl Kitchener's new army was opened in London today. The campaign is to be carried on for a fortnight.

Meetings addressed by Liberal Unionist, Labor, and Irish members of parliament were held in Hyde Park, Trafalgar square, and other centers of the capital, while recruiting sergeants distributed pamphlets showing the pay, separation allowances, and other advantages given to soldiers of the king.

As the result of the Trafalgar square meeting 200 recruits registered at the chief recruiting office nearby. During the fortnight's campaign 1,800 meetings will be held, while troops will engage in street marching.

BOMB WRECKS BUILDING IN KANSAS CITY; TWO HURT.

Explosion Destroys Seven Story Structure of Packing Plant—Loss $750,000.

Kansas City, Mo., April 12.—An explosion believed by the police to have been caused by a bomb wrecked the seven story building of the Cudahy Packing company's plant here tonight, causing a loss estimated at $750,000. Two men employed in the building were injured. Investigation, however, developed no trace of an explosive. Company officials asserted there was no plot in the building and that the cooling pipes contained no ammonia or other material that might explode.

War Speech of "Tribune" Man in New York Sees Rival Demonstrations.

New York, April 12.—[Special.]—An unusually demonstrative audience of over a thousand persons gathered at the public meeting of the Woman's Peace party in Carnegie hall this evening to hear the speech of Charles N. Wheeler, a war correspondent of The Chicago Tribune, Mrs. Marion Craig Westworth, author of "War Brides," and Mrs. Patrick Lawlor, who is about to sail for The Hague peace conference.

Most of their handclapping and enthusiasm was of approbation, especially of all denunciations of war, but the intense talk of Mr. Wheeler now and then excited hisses and cries of "That's lie," from isolated members of the audience.

The longest outburst occurred when he stated that the cause of German hate might be traced more than anything to "Wimpy Chamberlain's publicly terming them Hunns and baby killers, hisses and handclapping conflicting for two or three minutes.

Wheeler Tells War's Horrors.
Mr. Wheeler's talk was a depiction of the horrors of war as he had seen them, with especial emphasis on the horrors undergone by the women both as "war brides" and refugees.

The saloons of London, he said, were closed, not because of the war, but because of the women, who, crazed with the terror of the war, have turned to drunkenness. He saw hope for the future only in the individual efforts of the women to raise their children to traditions of peace and hatred of war.

He told of the 10,000,000 people in Poland and in the west, of the suffering and madness in Belgium, of twenty miles of graves passed outside of Antwerp, and prophesied that if Kitchener succeeded in his aim to drive the Germans from Belgium hardly a stone of Antwerp would remain.

ROMANS IN RIOT; FIGHT CAVALRY IN WAR FERVOR

Troops Called Out to Suppress Mobs Crying "Down with Austria."

[FOR CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]
ROME, April 12.—The crowds which tried to gather in the public square today, came to cry for war with Austria and some to demand continued neutrality, were charged by forces of cavalry.

Time and again they attempted to assemble in the public square, and again the mounted troops, the soldiers with fixed bayonets, and the policemen with clubs drove at them and forced them to scatter.

In the mob scenes, which occurred at various spots throughout the city, many people were trampled under foot by stampeding horses or were thrown to the street in the press of the crowds and stamped upon. Others were wounded by the police batons, which flew this way and that as the officers hurried themselves into each gathering mass and used their weapons with a severity that revealed clearly how determined the government is that no public demonstrations shall be made.

War Call Quoted.
Signs of public agitation and of the government's purpose to prevent all gatherings began early in the day. Leaders of the war propagandists had issued a call for public demonstrations. Leaders of the neutrality sympathizers had done the same.

The authorities had issued their warning and had said that any attempt at open air speaking or mass meetings would be promptly and, if necessary, severely put down. The city police, including the cavalry force, was turned into the streets early in the morning with orders to disperse any people who attempted to gather. The police were especially alert that they might be able to charge on the cable street highways.

By noon there were strong detachments of horses and foot guards surrounding all of the public gathering places, such as the quinal, the minister's, the Austrian and the German embassies and the consulates, and the streets were patrolled by marching squads of police armed with heavy sticks.

Clash in Afternoon.
The morning passed without any clash, but shortly after noon the people attempted to cluster in many open spaces. There was no time lost by the military. Orders were given that the people must disperse, and when they showed an inclination to disregard the orders and even began to yell and shout, the police and soldiers moved quickly.

The scenes which resulted have not been equalled in Rome since the anti-clerical riots were suppressed. The mobs, even while being charged by the cavalry, shouted and rebuffed. "Down with Austria," "Abasso Austria." The revolutionary leader, Mussolini, and the futurist leader, Marinetti, were among the many arrested.

One throng of men made their way to the outskirts of the city, where stands Prince von Buxtorf's residence, the Villa delle Rose, and endeavored to make a demonstration. They were only prevented by the prompt action of the cavalry, which seemed to be everywhere throughout the city.

Peace Question Arouses Interest.
VIENNA, April 12.—Press comment on Kaerl von Wiegand's interview with the pope shows that the question of peace has aroused much interest. The Reichspost says that, if the United States, which is about to give emphasis to the desire for peace, should combine with the spiritual authority of the pope, means of achieving peace would be prepared which nothing more brilliant or more likely to succeed at the decisive moment could be imagined.

The New York Press says: "When the pope turns to President Wilson as an ally in his efforts for peace the world's heartens actively even when the necessary preliminary conditions do not exist at the moment."

GORGAS OFFERED POST WITH ROCKEFELLER FOUNDATION.

Surgeon General of Army Would Not Have to Resign Commission Unless He Went to Serbia.

Washington, D. C., April 12.—Major Gen. William C. Gorgas, surgeon general of the United States army, was invited tonight by the Rockefeller foundation to become a permanent member of its staff in the capacity of general adviser in matters relating to public sanitation and the control of epidemics.

Major Gen. Gorgas took the invitation under consideration, indicating that he probably would give his answer within a few days. It is understood the general expects to consult Secretary of War Garrison and possibly President Wilson before reaching a decision.

Being entitled under the law to retire at any time he desires, it will not be necessary for the surgeon general to resign his commission in the army in order to accept the new post unless it should become necessary for him to go to Serbia. As an officer on the retired list of the United States army he could not take charge of work within the territory of a belligerent nation.

Jerome D. Greene, secretary of the Rockefeller foundation, denied that Maj. Gen. Gorgas had been offered a $50,000 salary. The pay would be "moderate," he declared.

FRENCH VESSEL HIT BY TORPEDO

NO LIVES ARE LOST.

BULLETIN.

DESCRIBES HARPALYCE'S LOSS.
LONDON, April 12, 2 a. m.—The Daily Telegraph's Rotterdam correspondent gives an interview with Third Officer Llewellyn of the British steamer Harpalyce, who was on the bridge in command of the steamer at the time the vessel was sunk by an explosion in the North sea. The vessel was returning after taking relief supplies to Belgium.

"Suddenly I heard a tremendous explosion," Llewellyn is quoted as having said, "and the ship heeled over. I looked down its side and saw a tremendous hole, as if half the side of the ship had been blown out. The Harpalyce began to settle down very fast."

"I could see no trace of a submarine, but two minutes afterward I thought I saw a periscope some distance away, going from the ship in a northerly direction."

Saw Commission's Flag.
The captain of the Dutch steamer Zimbe related the following story of the disaster:

"I was on the bridge of my ship a mile astern of the Harpalyce and could clearly see the flag of the American relief commission flying from the ship's stay. Suddenly there was a cloud of smoke and a tremendous explosion. I put on full speed for the ship and then saw the periscope of a submarine within 300 feet of the Harpalyce, going away from the sinking vessel."

The small steamer Zimbe was attacked today near Plymouth by a German submarine. The crew of ten men were rescued by a torpedo boat destroyer. It has not been learned as yet whether the President was sunk.

LONDON, April 12, 9:45 a. m.—The Daily Express says it learns that the solution of the drink problem which the government is now favoring is a state monopoly of beer.

"The only beer brewed or sold," says the newspaper, "will be brewed and sold by the government. All breweries and public houses in Great Britain and Ireland will be purchased outright, payment for them being made in bonds bearing 4 per cent interest. No strong or heavy beer will be brewed."

SAYS MEXICANS ARE PRAYING FOR INTERVENTION

John F. Barry Asserts All Classes Agree U. S. Action Is Only Hope of Peace.

BY JOHN F. BARRY.
ARTICLE II.

Since my arrival in the United States a few days ago what has most impressed me is the extraordinary ignorance prevailing in regard to conditions in Mexico and the general apathy—rather, entire lack of interest—of the American press and people in regard to what is bound to become the most vital problem which will confront the United States.

This is borne out in a striking manner by the recent publication of a Vera Cruz dispatch to Chicago giving an outline of an interview with Gen. Carranza, first chief of the Constitutional army. That Carranza Carranza had the effrontery to make such a ridiculous statement that "peace will be in sight in Mexico in another three months" is not surprising, however, when we consider some of his other statements.

Last October such a statement coming from Carranza would not have called for comment. At that time he might have made such a statement and meant it—but today it is different. Carranza was really the "prince" of last October before he was thrown out by the "insurrección" or "revolutionary convention." Today he is the smallest factor in the "revolution." If we exclude Gen. Eulalio Gutiérrez (the man who skipped out of Mexico City in the night during his term of office as provisional president, taking with him twenty-five millions from the national treasury and one-half the garrison), and Gen. José Inés Salazar.

Carranza pictured as "Bluff." Carranza is perhaps the greatest "bluff" in the Mexican revolution. Since the day when he took up arms and called his movement "Constitutionalist" in order to win the sympathy of the American people and people, every foreigner in Mexico knew why he revolted and how much constitutionalism there was in his subsequent actions, down to today, when he issues statements as that he "will restore peace" or "will give guarantee to all foreigners who will move from the disputed parts of the country to the regions under his control."

When Madero was still in power Carranza was governor of the state of Nuevo Leon. He was sent large sums of money by the president with which to form a state militia for the purpose of supporting the Maderista cause in the troubled times which Madero was ahead of him.

Carranza Dupes Madero. Madero treated Carranza as the "trust" employee—and any man who has a sufficient amount of experience of the politics will tell you that in nine cases out of ten it is the "trusted employee" who does the swindling, the petty peculation. Don Venustiano put the money he received in his pocket—and no state militia was created. This went on for some months, and at last Madero got to hear about it. An explanation was demanded of Venustiano, but none was given.

"Diplomatic relations" between the president and the state governor were ruptured, and the governor hastily set about formation of an "army" of his own. He suborned the state officials (in the usual Mexican way—good jobs when the revolution triumphed?), seized all the funds in the state treasury, and was on the point of openly "proclaiming" against Madero, and taking the field against his chief (it was generally recognized in Mexico that Carranza saw that Madero was tottering, and "the rat" deserting the sinking ship) when, without warning, the decrees tragica began and ended in the downfall and death of Madero and Huerta took over the reins of government in his rough, masterful hands.

Carranza Wars on Huerta. Venustiano Carranza saw his chance. Blinded by ambition and jealous of Gen. Huerta he took the plunge, and in a ten-day run of carnage and hypocrisy, which shed the blood of every honest Mexican with disgust, he refused to recognize the "usurpation" of Huerta and began the movement which has since been known as "Constitutionalist" (shade of the sacred name).

In a country where every restless soul who hates the dull monotony of honest toil has recourse to the "profession of arms" he had not much difficulty in gathering about him in the north the remnants of every disaffected and ambitious "soldado," and the "electo-constitucionalista" soon numbered thousands. Villa at the time was not the great man he is today. He was then merely a reformed bandit who was used by Carranza because of his national military abilities and the enthusiasm of Pancho Villa was the greatest tactical blunder (of the many) which Carranza made. Villa has been the rock on which Carranza perished.

President Wilson, doubtless blinded by the glamour of the word "constitutionalist" in a country where the constitution has always been a dead letter, took Carranza to his breast. In all honesty, he was an unselfish sympathizer and friend and the "Mexican policy" of the White House was summed up in the words, "Huerta must go."

Every honest man in Mexico, foreigner and Mexican, who knew Carranza, knew his history, his ability, his weak character, protested to Washington against the recognition of the "first chief." We all foresaw that the end could only be achieved that no good could come of it—and we are today so tragically justified.

Huerta Painted in New Light. Viewed from an American and European standpoint, Huerta was a "bad man," but taken from the other side he was just an average Mexican—the only type of man who can ever restore order out of the chaos into which the "revolution" has plunged the country.

What Huerta did he did openly. He executed those who would perpetuate the orgy of bloodshed and destruction, and in a short time he would have eradicated the germ of unrest—by making "revolution" an expensive pastime for those who valued life—that peace might have been a fait accompli.

Carranza, Villa, Obregon, Zapata, and

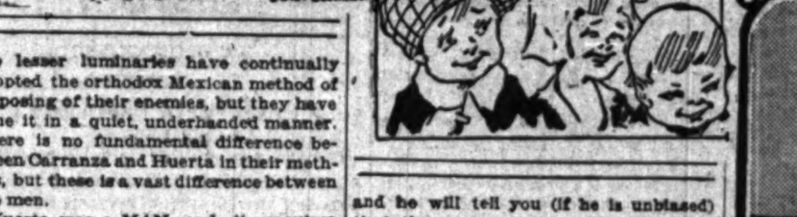

"Hey, Skin-nay! Yoo-hoo!" Look What's Come to Town.

the lesser luminaries have continually adopted the orthodox Mexican method of disposing of their enemies, but they have done it in a rather unbecoming manner. There is no fundamental difference between Carranza and Huerta in their methods, but there is a vast difference between the men.

Huerta was a MAN—and it requires nerve to be a Mexican president. Carranza is a weakling and a coward, who has remained all through the revolution in the safest place he could find far from the din of battle. His own men despise him, his orders (during the time he was in Mexico City at least) we know for certain are obeyed or not as it suits the whim or interest of his chiefs.

Carranza Aids Desert Him. No better illustration of the respect and enthusiasm which his men have for him can be had than the extraordinary manner in which the Carranzista cause has crumbled since the fall of Huerta—who was driven from power solely by the active opposition of President Wilson, which culminated in the seizure of the port of Vera Cruz last April.

First Villa and Angeles deserted him, next the sovereign revolutionary convention (with the exception of a minority of the "generals"), then Pancho Villa, followed in rapid succession by Lucio Blanco and Gutierrez, and it is well known in Mexico City that Alvaro Obregon was on the point of starting "on his own" last December, the only thing which stopped him being a lack of funds.

The extraordinarily plucky stand made by the Mexico City merchants (when one considers that many risked their lives by refusing when they refused to obey Obregon's "decree" which would have netted Carranza's face for the moment. But who knows for how long a time?

Carranza Terrified Small. Taking it that Obregon and his men are loyal, Carranza controls less than one-seventh of the republic. Outside of Vera Cruz and Puebla he controls none of the south. He cannot advance northward from Vera Cruz as the conventionists (i.e., for the moment Gonzalez Garza and the Zapatistas) control all the central states, including Mexico City.

He cannot advance southward, as Toluca, Toluca, Chiapas, Oaxaca, and the peninsula of Tehuantepec have openly declared themselves independent of the remainder of the republic and are prepared to defend their independence. He controls Tampico and a section of the northern portion of Tamaulipas. He also controls Colima and Sinaloa, but they are without strategic or military importance.

This being the case, it is obviously ridiculous for Don Carranza Carranza to tell the American press that "in three months the danger will be over."

Mexicans Favor Intervention. Carranza says in his interview: "Intervention means years of warfare. The Mexican people do not like to be dominated by others." Ask any man living in Mexico today what he thinks of this and he will tell you (if he is unbiased) that the vast majority of the Mexican people are today praying, as they never before prayed for anything, that the United States will intervene and restore order out of the chaos existing.

Every thinking Mexican knows that the revolution as it stands is a complete failure; that it never touched the hearts or won the sympathy of the vast majority of the Mexican people. The masses in Mexico are today crying "Save us from our friends; save us from the domination of the gangs of armed ruffians who are ruining our country under the cloak of 'a revolution.'"

I talked to men of all classes in Mexico City. I had unique opportunities of sounding the ideas and desires of many of the best men remaining in the country, business and professional men who had never mixed in the stormy politics of their country (but who had felt the heavy hand of Obregon or Villa or Zapata nevertheless). I talked with peddlers and men of the gente decente in Toluca, which is under the domination of Zapata; in Acambaro, state of Michoacan; Calaya, state of Guanajuato; Aguascalientes, Toluca, Ciudad Juarez, all of which are under the Villa regime.

Intervention Only Remedy. They all spoke to me freely, knowing that they could trust me, being a foreigner. And they one and all said, without a moment's hesitation on my hinting that American intervention was the only remedy for the anarchy prevailing in Mexico, "Sir, there is no other remedy."

And on my telling them that I thought that intervention was now only a matter of a few months or weeks they one and all answered, with a light approaching enthusiasm in their eyes, "¡Que Dios sea veloz!" (Would to God that it may be so!)

And I know I voice the opinions and wishes and fervent hopes of some 20,000 foreigners resident in Mexico when I say that I believe that the United States government will be compelled, in the interests of civilization alone, to intervene in the Mexican anarchy before next June.

VILLA ACTS TO SAVE CIVILIANS BEFORE ASSAULT

Invites Obregon Into Open from Celaya or to Permit People to Leave Town.

Washington, D. C., April 11.—Gen. Villa telegraphed his agency here tonight that he had sent a communication through foreign consuls to Gen. Obregon, inviting him to come into the open country north of Celaya to fight or else permit the noncombatants of that city to withdraw before he begins the bombardment. The message, dated Villa's headquarters, at Irapuato today, was as follows:

"The recent engagements with Alvaro Obregon's column at Celaya resulted disastrously for the enemy, who have suffered enormous losses in killed, I have heard from reliable sources that six train loads of Carranzista wounded as a consequence of this engagement have left Celaya for Queretaro.

"The enemy are completely demoralized, and my troops in the vicinity of Celaya and Queretaro inform me that Obregon's men are constantly deserting him in groups of from 100 to 200, throwing away their arms, which are being gathered up by our soldiers.

Put Plan Before Obregon. "This morning the French, American, English, and German consuls left Guanajuato for Celaya for the purpose of interviewing Obregon, suggesting that he go out in the open and fight or permit the resident families to leave Celaya, inasmuch as my forces will attack that place within two or three days and bombard it with sixty pieces of artillery.

"The consuls take with them a communication of mine to Alvaro Obregon, in which I have invited him to submit the possession of Celaya to open battle or permit the inhabitants to leave until my bombardment ceases."

Carranzista Claim Victory. Laredo, Tex., April 11.—Villa forces have been defeated with a loss of 3,000 killed and wounded in the battle at Celaya, according to meager reports reaching here from Mexico today. The reports, which came from Carranza sources, said the battle had been concluded with the retreat northward of the Villa army.

HYDE PARK FLAT FIRE OUSTS THIRTY-SIX FAMILIES.

Stand About in Night Clothes When Battalion Chief Arrives and Calls Apparatus.

James F. Gilmore of 5515 Greenwood avenue was standing on the rear porch of his home last night thinking of going to bed when he saw smoke and flames burst through a basement window across the alley.

By the time he had turned in an alarm from a drug store on Fifty-fifth street, thirty-six families had been driven by the smoke from their homes in the four-story University apartment building at 1127-35 East Fifty-fifth street, and were standing, some of them in their night clothes, about the entrance. Chief John Smith of the Sixteenth battalion added to the confusion when he arrived by sounding a special alarm or two and summoning to the scene most of the apparatus in that part of town, but little damage was done.

The fire started from an overheated boiler in the basement under the express office of Gustave Strom at 1129. The flames penetrated the flooring and did damage estimated at $10,000.

FAIL TO PIERCE MYSTERY OF GOTHAM WOMAN MURDER.

Police Find More Articles of Clothing on Wagon Lot, But Are No Nearer to Solution.

New York, April 11.—In their search today of the vacant lot in the Bronx where the body of a murdered woman was discovered yesterday, the police found additional articles of the victim's wearing apparel, but nothing that brought them any nearer to a solution of the mystery, they announced tonight.

Two rings worn by the woman, one bearing the initials "S. O. F." and the other inscribed "N. F. Seven," and a heart-shaped locket with the inscription, "Good Luck," were the most important clues to the woman's identity.

CUBS VS. MAROON

TODAY'S CARD AT WEST SIDE PARK

Brosnahan's Beat Memphis in Final Training Trip Game; Buckles Left Behind.

BY SAM WELLS.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., April 11.—(Special.)—The Cubs today through most of the game without the services of Eddie Collins, their headliner, Rowland's White Sox still proved far too fast for the St. Joseph Western league today, and the final register showed a 10 to 0 victory for the victors.

At a look of indignation robbed Eddie Collins of his usual good nature this morning, but he is in the starting line-up. In his first try at bat he soaked a triple, and in a later effort he stretched the blow to a home run. When he arose after a daring slide he was almost too dizzy to stand and complained of the club base for first base. Eddie accompanied his mates back to the hotel after the game.

Will Give Collins Attention.

Unless the great second sacker is his normal self tomorrow Rowland will not let him back into the lineup here, which will mark the end of the White Sox barnstorming campaign. Rose Panta will take no chances of having his star out of commission when the bell rings at St. Louis over the opening American league battle on Wednesday.

After Eddie was withdrawn from the fray Shano Collins went to second base and Jack Fournier broke in at right field. Fournier celebrated his entry into the box score by poling three hits, one a homer. Jack also pilfered one base. John Collins and Julian also combed three safeties each. The total bombarding figures for the Sox showed fourteen blows, a total of twenty-six bases. The slugging delighted the crowd of 2,000 that appeared to welcome the Sox.

Faber Shows Big League Stuff.

Red Faber did the hurrying for Rowland.

Errors Give Turtles Runs.

Six hits were made off Vaughn during the four innings he worked, but only one run could be had from the onslaught of swats. A fumble by Good followed by a double barrelled error by Archer gave the Turtles two runs in the first inning, as a result of one single and a pass.

With Turtles on first and second and two out Archer tried to pick a man off first and made a wild throw. Good returned the ball to stop one of the runners at the plate and it was away from Archer, letting both runs count.

The Cubs could not do a thing to Shirley, a young local pitcher, for three innings, but in the fourth his support backed up on him and the count was seven runs on three safe swats, one of which was a drive over the right field fence by Williams with two men ahead of him.

Williams Seeks "Safety First."

Vaughn also contributed a double to the good cause in this round. He tripled and a single by Williams put over another in the fifth. In trying to get from first to third on Archer's out Williams wrecked the pants of his uniform and had to retire to the clubhouse to change. Stock's clutching, leaving Corbin to fill in at center the rest of the day.

Schulte put another home run over the right field fence after a single by Fisher in the sixth and raised the Cub total to ten runs. Shirley retired after that in favor of White, whose other name is Pinkie. In the next three innings the Cubs made only one run, obtaining that by a pass, an error, and a double steal which ended in the death of one of the thieves.

Locals Rally in Ninth.

Cheney, who pitched the last five innings, shut out the locals until the ninth inning. Then they bunched three solid swats, with boots by Fisher and McLaughlin for four runs. Cheney got the next two men, then tossed a pass, and the Turtles were a home run would come within a hair of the cup. But Cheney, the last batsman, was not good for the home run. He forced the side out.

The Cub roster was reduced to within two men of the National league limit by the exit of Joe Buckner, the south-western recruit from Medicine Hat, to the Memphis club today. Brosnahan had Buckles warming up in advance of every game played here, and Manager Ford liked his action and delivery so well that he decided to try him out. The deal included an option on Buckles' services, so that if he makes good the Cubs can have him back in the fall unless the Federal league intervenes.

Play Stage's Maroons Today.

Bully weather brought out a crowd of 1,000 to see the Maroons and the Cubs in a surprise to take home after paying all expenses since leaving Tampa. This will partially reimburse the club for the "tremendous outfit" expended on pitcher McConnell, but will not recompense Maroon Deween, Resnan, and Kilpenmeyer of Tampa for McConnell's board.

The Cubs left for Chicago tonight under the personal chaperonage of District Passenger Agent Carmichael, and are due to reach home before noon, in plenty of time to play the final show game with the University of Chicago tomorrow afternoon on the west side lot.

FLICKERINGS from FILM LAND

BY KITTY KELLY

Kitty Sees 'The Lily of Poverty Flat.'

SAN RAFAEL, Cal., April 11.—The studio's glowers at us when we started out, the white capped waves slapped against the shore as we crossed the harbor, and we literally raised into San Rafael and the California Motion Picture company's studio there—we being Stewart Masters, author of publicity, and Kitty Kelly, scribe for Sunday.

The studio is one of the conventional summer affairs with plenty of glass walls but no roof, giving the rain a fine, large, unobstructed view, of which it was making the most of. The studio was not so hospitable as it looked, however, for on the stage was set a wonderful, fully designed and executed "hallroom" effect made for the shooting of the story of the Lily of Poverty Flat, and around it raved agitated stage folk led by George Middleton in frantic efforts to drag it in canvas and persuade wind flapping diffusers above to stay put in the job of keeping out the rain. Instead of scattering the rain, diffusers in the same given to muller screens stretched above stage sets for the purpose of softening the bright sunlight into more equable and softer illumination.

It was a dismal prospect until Miss Beatriz Michelena brooded along and then I forgot all about the weather, though possibly poor George—who is Miss Michelena's personal property in the way of a husband—didn't.

First off said the lady, who is continually all-a-sparkle with vivacity, sometimes like a brook running into a bit of shadowy seriousness and then dissolving out into an irresistible jest, said she.

"Miss Kelly? You are the person who criticized my chewing gum in 'Gummy Jane.' I remember."

And she fixed me with large brown eyes while she quoted the line that justified the gum chewing, obliged me to say why I had mentioned it, and pleadingly assured me that she never really chewed gum, and when she did she did it O. so carefully so that no one could ever see.

To be faced thus by a charming woman with one's criticisms thought of months back is no enviable thought, flickerings.

But Miss Michelena forgave me and said about two bubbles of interesting things that I only wish could be flickered on in the inimitable manner of herself.

She had been on the stage since she was 16, her interests lying operationally. Her voice she treasures and trains and intends, when her contract expires, to return to her opera work.

"Then how did you happen to go into pictures?"

"Well, at first I didn't like the idea of pictures a bit. But my daddy thought it might be a good thing for me really to see myself as I looked. He thought I might be able to learn something from the experience."

"Then so many people thought I queer for a singer to go into pictures. I don't see why that should be, for one who sings should be able to act. When I saw I felt things and express them by acting just as much as in my work before the camera."

"But they thought I queer, and I just wanted to show them that a singer can act—and the success that has come to me."

makes me feel just a bit like crawling a little," she explained half shyly.

"But I love it, every crack and hole of the film business, now."

"I know all about it, too. I direct my own scenes. I can't rehearse, never could on the stage, and so I trouble new directors who feel they must have everything all rehearsed."

"I was afraid before I began to work that it would always seem like rehearsal, but when the camera begins to grind it all means something suddenly. It is the same kind of thrill the stage audience gives me."

"I think maybe the feeling comes because everything is real, not sham. There are the real redwood trees, the real earth to step on, and when one picks a flower it is the real flower, not a thing of paste. That makes one feel like acting."

"And I do. After a lot of scenes I'm just shaking all over. I'm so tired. It is really harder work than the stage, but I'm so healthy that no one ever sympathizes with me. And she laughed and dimpled in such a pink cheeked fashion that I don't really see how any one could."

"People think I queer because I, a singer, ride and swim and so on. But if more of them would do that instead of bundling themselves up so they wouldn't always be having trouble with their throats."

"I don't mind doing anything—except for the sake of art. I'm not afraid of things I ought to be afraid of, like steep climbs, swimming rivers and falls. But, up!—she pursed up her lips and tugged out her eyes—I'm afraid of the dark. I've never grown up beyond that. I wouldn't stay alone in a house at night. I'm more afraid of the boggy man."

She is such a human person, is Miss Michelena, with her enthusiasm and bubbling affection for her work and everybody and everything connected with it, that she is better than a shelf of California sunbaths for making the day go pleasantly.

She is most anxious for the release of 'The Lily of Poverty Flat,' which is due next month, and so am I, for Miss Michelena as 'the Lily' has considerably more meaning than in the days when she was only a collection of alphabetical units.

BRIGHT SAYINGS of the CHILDREN

"The Tribune" will pay $1 for each childish saying printed. The stories may be sent in either by children or their parents. The only condition is the story told must never have been printed in any magazine or paper. It is not possible to acknowledge or return unsuitable contributions. Address bright sayings to Emily Ben, "Tribune," Chicago.

When our physician asked little Alice if she would come and live with him she said, "Doctor, you had me come why didn't you keep me?" N. D.

My sister going to call one day on a school friend, took her little son along. While there, the hostess served refreshments on a highly polished table, with only a center piece in the center of the table. It looked like a regular meal to Billy, who looked first at his mother and then at the hostess in a puzzled way. They both began to eat, and finally Billy with a little sigh, seriously lifted his glass and plate and spread out his napkin under them. His mother wanted to know why he was doing that, and Billy, glancing furtively at the hostess, who appeared not to be noticing, whispered: "She forgot the tablecloth." C. M. G.

A little girl was walking with me on the street and she saw another little girl crying. She turned around and said to this little girl's mother: "Why don't you give her a spanking? That's the way my mother treats me." E. Anderson, 5174 Michigan avenue.

Indoor Life Stunts Growth.

Copyright, 1915, by William Russell.

THE call for volunteers for the British army was followed by the discovery that the stature of thousands of men had been stunted by indoor work. The height of men engaged in outdoor work measured up to the requirements, but thousands who were employed indoors failed to pass muster. The point I desire to make is that men are stunted by indoor work. The percentage of workers and idlers in this country—those who spend their time indoors—is increasing. If their work requires them to be housed up all day, they have a special reason to seek recreation outdoors and sleep with their windows wide open. And who is taking the lead in this movement to extend outdoor life? The women. Women, collectively and individually, are seeking to promote outdoor life. Their clubs are agitating it; in their homes they are teaching their children to keep the windows wide open at night and to be in the fresh air as much as possible during the day. They are properly ventilating their homes. Demands for well ventilated schoolrooms, workshops, public halls and conveyances, churches, and theaters come from the same source. It should be a part of the woman's work to prevent the stunting of the growth of men and women by indoor life. They can inculcate the principles of life in the open just as naturally as they dictate the education of the children in their homes.

Did you transform yourself from an ugly duckling by a beauty trick? Write and tell me what the beauty trick was. "The Tribune" will pay $1 for every letter published. Address William Russell, Chicago Tribune.

T. E. H.: I fear you will have to give up wearing low shoes if your ankles are weak. If you wear high laced shoes you can support the ankles by lacing them.

Never wear pumps. This exercise will strengthen the ankles. Do it without shoes. Open wide the windows as far as to have plenty of fresh air. You are an advocate of fresh air even to the extent of exercising the ankles. Practice deep breathing for a minute or so, then practice this exercise for about five minutes, increasing the time as your ankles strengthen. Stand erect with shoulders back and head held high with chin up. Place hands on hips, rise on toes, and lower heels. Repeat.

MARION HARLAND'S HELPING HAND

Prognostications of Tolstol.

"W"ill you please favor me by sending the prognostications of Tolstol, the Russian writer, and those of that celebrated French woman regarding future events and forecasts throughout the world?

The articles for which you ask went the rounds of the papers so recently that they may be in the scrap book of a reader and so accessible that the owner may be willing to lend them to you, or if he or she be exceptionally amiable, to copy them for you and send through the Corner. I hold your address.

Organized to Spread Happiness.

"I don't know a thing about the terms upon which communications are published in your paper and send them at random. This is my wish: A girl's club has been organized in my church, the main object of which is to make others happy. Two of us have neither money nor time to spare. So their part of the work is to write to any invalid or shut-in who would like to receive friendly, cheering letters. They are bright, happy girls and would do their best to enlighten the sufferers. If you know of such persons please let me know. JOSEPHINE C."

A most commendable purpose and one which will have our cordial cooperation. Shut-ins will please make a note of the beautiful offer.

Looking Up Missing Friend.

"Here is something I should like to have you put in your Corner. A friend of mine is looking up one of his friends by the name of Peter Scherzinger or Scherz. He has not heard from him since 1904. He used to be an architect or contractor. There are so many readers of your Corner, some one might be acquainted with him."

We insert the inquiry the more cheerfully for the memory of your services to the Corner. You are an ever welcome visitor. Any news we can gather of the missing acquaintance will be forwarded to you.

Authority on Commercial Spanish.

"I am desirous of studying Spanish in my spare time, but come to you for information regarding the best authority on commercial Spanish, a method which would be helpful in a business way."

"Mrs. J. B. M."

Fashions from London

By Bessie Ascough

A green fallie suit with a satin leather belt fastened with a dull finished gold buckle. Jull gold buttons trim the coat and the collar is of organza.

LONDON.—(Special Correspondence.)—This is one of the Frenchest of all the small hats. And, after all, there is nothing so Parisian as the small turban fitted over one's eyes and perhaps flaunting a single small rose. They say that the American woman really prefers a large hat and that the only reason a small one under protest when fashion insists that she must be modish. Whether this is so or not, there is no denying that the small hat is the preference of the Parisian and generally of the English woman, too.

FRENCH BUYING
COPPERS OF U. S.

Current Business at Paris
Running in American Shares.

CONFIDENCE IS SEEN.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]
PARIS, April 12.—The market is once more chiefly concerned in dealings in the French national bonds, mostly perpetual annuities and the new 5 per cent. bonds. For several weeks the 5 per cent. bonds have been steadily rising under strong support, and the redemptible 5 per cent. bonds issued in 1914 are also rising 40 centimes, which is the figure required by the government to exchange these bonds for the new 5 per cent. bonds.

Bank of France stock last week recovered a few points, while Amst. Don shares advanced 17 points. French rails remain firm, Paris Lyons Mediterranean showing no difference after the detachment of an 88 coupon. The east and west main railroads closed at an advance of 6 points, while Orleans made 10 points. Northern railroads receded 1,400 francs.

Activity Signs of Confidence.
This activity in French rails and national funds is regarded by financial experts as a sure sign of confidence of the public and large industrial capitalists in the stability of French credit. The impetus given to the market by bonds as well as industrial continues without check.

Another feature is the sharp impulse given to copper in the outside market. Current business is running principally in American, French, Canadian, Chile, China and Ray coppers, also Mexico, Bolivia, Pyrites and Spanish Rio Tinto mines. Considerable activity is recorded in French and Russian steel and iron works, electrical tractions, and Russian Sea Lines.

In South Africa, De Beers advanced several points, stimulated by the largely increased importations of diamonds into the United States recorded last week.

Britain's Financial Position.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]
LONDON, April 12.—Discounts made a sharp break upward last week. There was nothing in the market movements to cause this, and no evidence that the Bank of England was taking steps to reduce money supplies in the open market, since "other" securities held by the bank fell less than $2,250,000 to $2,000,000. But brokers became very nervous over reports that the government was preparing to sell the bank in steps to control market supplies and raise discounts.

Recent pessimistic expressions induced financiers to call attention to a comparison of the condition of the Bank of England and the Reichsbank, which was altogether in favor of the Bank of England. The combined note issues of both banks and government in active circulation are only $378,641,983, whereas the incomplete statement is obtainable from January show that the Reichsbank note issue was $1,400,000,000, and that in addition the bank holds $140,856,730 government notes, making a total on the last day of March of $1,548,500,000. This necessarily takes no account of the large amount of notes issued by the "war banks" of Germany under the authorization of the government.

In Ireland, however, the combined gold and note circulation amounts to $207,235,130, thus exceeding the notes by $27,763,130, while in Germany the Reichsbank on the last day of March held only $384,882,000 gold, according to its statement, against the note issue of $1,548,500,000.

WEEKLY BANK CLEARINGS

Bank clearings in the United States for the week ending April 10, as reported by the Federal Reserve Bank, New York, were $2,490,250,000, against $2,404,600,000 last week and $2,570,000,000 in this week. Corsets For Stout Folks

A new model that accomplishes wonders for the type of figure intended.

Women having short, stout figures with extra large round hips and long, full abdomen which has become prominent by the use of improper corsets will be enthusiastic over what can be accomplished for them with this new model.

We wish you could have seen the figure here sketched in the corset we displayed—the improvement to the figure is almost unbelievable.

Long clasps and boning across the front holds in a full abdomen and supports it without the least discomfort. The corset is so made as to bondage the fleshy hips, causing the flesh to gradually disappear, at the same time reducing the figure to its natural lines.

Made of firm coutil, sizes up to 36, price $3.50

Here we have a special model for every figure, and each model is for that individual type only.

Children can not eat too much Ice Cream. Their craving for it is perfectly normal and perfectly natural. Remember that.

It isn't the quantity but the quality of food that builds strength.

Ice Cream is a tissue builder. You can do more actual work and build stronger bodies on an Ice Cream diet than on nine-tenths of the other kinds of food you eat.

Doctors and Food Experts found this out long ago. The people are just finding it out now. That is why we are eating five times as much Ice Cream as we did four years ago. That is why even in colder countries like Canada, big Ice Cream plants are going up in every city.

In Chicago every big Ice Cream plant is now rigorously inspected by the Board of Health, by the State Factory Inspectors and by the Illinois State Food Commission. Chicago Ice Cream is the purest, most wholesome food you can buy as well as the best in food value. Order it for lunch today and for dinner tonight. It is as good as it tastes.
